Open Cyber Security Conference

Auditorio Adán Martín Menis, Tenerife

Back to the future

Moving forward with lessons learned from 30 years of working together!
The OCSC is a unique event to celebrate 30 years of international collaboration of European cyber security and incident management teams within a truly global community of trusted practitioners. But instead of looking back, the conference will focus on the future of security incident management and how to address the challenges ahead.

Organized by the OpenCSIRT Foundation (OCF) in close collaboration with TF-CSIRT and FIRST.

The OpenCSIRT Foundation is seeking sponsorships for its joint conference on cyber security and incident management the week of 26 February to 1 March 2024, celebrating 30 years of international collaboration of European cyber security and incident management teams within a truly global community of trusted practitioners.

Well-attended and well-received, past conferences on this topic have attracted over 1,000 delegates from over 85 countries. The communities represented by FIRST.ORG and TF-CSIRT together are by far the most unique international assemblies of incident management and cyber security professionals.

Sponsorship opportunities are limited and are on a first-come, first-served basis. These sponsorships provide a unique opportunity to showcase your organization's commitment to respond to cyber security incidents by working together and help to better support the Global and European community by informing highly influential experts and influencers of cyber security incident management and decision makers. Interested organizations should act quickly to ensure their sponsorship participation.

Pre-Conference Ice Breaker on Monday, 26 February 2024
It has been a good tradition to meet the evening before the conferences to catch up with colleagues and start new conversions.

Vendor Evening on Tuesday, 27 February 2024
Since the addition of the vendor evening sponsorship opportunity all attendees are invited to join for an early evening of drinks and finger food in the vendor booth area. This provides for a unique opportunity to catch up on newest products and services as well as to discuss the pros and cons of it with vendor representatives and colleagues. As known from the FIRST Conferences et al. a price drawing based on stamps collected from the vendors during the conference days will be handed out by a representative of the sponsor at the conference closing.

Wifi for Conference Attendees
This sponsorship makes Wifi service available to all conference attendees. The sponsor may distribute flyer with login code from exhibit space in addition to the benefits shown in above table.

Polo Shirt
Based on experiences attendees like to wear the conference polo shirt. If you want your company logo to be shown around the event and among the community, this is probably an attractive opportunity.

Lanyard
This memorable opportunity places your company's logo next to the name of the conference and each attendee. Includes the opportunity to provide company-branded lanyards.
